

LURED LAD TO SLAY HUSBAND.

He Makes Confession and Woman Breaks Down and Admits Her Guilt.

BODY FOUND IN WATER.

First Vermont Man Had Been Chloroformed and Was Then Tied with Ropes—Woman Wanted Money.

BENNINGTON, Vt., Aug. 16.—Levi Perham, nineteen years old, has confessed to assisting Mrs. Marcus Rogers, of this place, in chloroforming the woman's husband and throwing his body into the Wallomsac River. When confronted with the boy's confession the woman broke down and admitted her guilt. Boyd Perham and Miss Stella Bates have been arrested as accessories. The girl is said to have purchased the chloroform which was administered before Rogers was bound with ropes and thrown into the water.

Rogers had separated from his wife and gone to Hopedale to obtain work. He carried $500 insurance, and this led the woman to luring him back here. Boyd Perham was asked to bring him back, but refused, and his younger brother, Levi, was prevailed on to do so.

Rogers was enticed to Morgan's Grove, where, on the evening of Tuesday, he met his wife and Levi Perham. The meeting was apparently a friendly one, and under the impression that his companions were showing him a trick with ropes, Rogers allowed them to bind him hand and foot.

When in this helpless condition they chloroformed him and threw him into the river. To create the impression that the man had committed suicide they wrote a note to that effect, signed Rogers' name to it, and placed it on his hat, which was hung upon a tree. The fact that the man's face was covered with bruises and that his lungs were filled with air led to a suspicion of foul play and an investigation which resulted in the confession of the Perham boys.

WOMAN KILLED BY CAR UNDETECTED.

Ambulance Surgeon Says She Who Was Flung from Madison Avenue Vehicle Died from Fractured Skull.

The woman who was thrown from a Madison avenue car yesterday afternoon at One Hundred and Seventeenth street, and died at the Harlem Hospital early to-day, has not been identified. Her body has been sent to the morgue, where an autopsy will be performed. Policeman Buchanan, of the One Hundred and Twenty-sixth Street Station, found her unconscious, with a scalp wound, but thought she had been drinking, or was simply stunned, so made no arrest and allowed the car to proceed. The woman did not regain consciousness and Ambulance Surgeon Dockman believes she died from fracture of the skull. She was about forty years of age, 5 feet 3 inches in height, and weighed 160 pounds.

POLICEMAN SAVES WHOLE FAMILY.

Meehan, of Williamsburg, Discovered Early Morning Blaze and Promptly Rescued the Smiths.

Four persons were rescued from death by fire early this morning in Williamsburg by the heroic efforts of a policeman. He is John J. Meehan, of the Bedford avenue station. Meehan discovered that the hat store of Otto Smith, at No. 49 Grand street, was on fire about 2 o'clock. The flames were spreading rapidly and had already enveloped the stairway to the two floors above, where the Smith family lived.

The policeman turned in an alarm, but the firemen were a bit slow in responding. Meehan remembered that a new building was being erected around the corner on Hooper street. He ran there and found a fire escape. It was heavy for one man, but Meehan tugged it around to the house adjoining the burning place. Bertram Smith, Meehan's neighbor, was on the roof, and Meehan pulled him down. Meehan then found the Smiths asleep, unconscious of their danger.

Otto Smith, twenty-six years old, and his wife, Mrs. Meehan, were the first to be rescued. They were on the roof and Meehan pulled them down. The aged parents of young Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, were partly overcome by the smoke.

Meehan carried them both up to the roof and down the ladder to safety just as the firemen dashed up and as the flames ate into the Smiths' sleeping room.

The younger Smiths were able to follow Meehan, helping each other. The cause of the fire is unknown. It gutted the building, causing a loss of $2,000.

MISS MERRITT GAINS FRIENDS.

Trustees Will Ask Her to Reconsider Her Resignation from Hope Church.

EXPERTS TO BE EXCLUDED

Handwriting on Fences Said to Be the Same as That in Anonymous Letters Sent to Members of Congregation.

Follow the action of the Board of Trustees of the Hope Baptist Church to accuse no one of the authorship of the anonymous letters, which have been causing dissensions, the announcement was made to-day that Miss Grace Merritt, will be asked by a number of the trustees to reconsider her resignation and to continue her relations with the church.

A member of the Board of Trustees said to-day that the board had decided unanimously to exclude evidence given by handwriting experts and to let the matter drop if it would, but to permit any one who wished to be heard to bring the matter up at the meeting next Friday night.

An effort was made to see Miss Merritt and ascertain if she would withdraw her resignation, but her mother met all callers and refused to permit her daughter to see any one. Neither would Mrs. Merritt discuss the matter in any way.

Friends Gather Evidence.
The Rev. Mr. Hartley, pastor of the church, would not make public the decision of the trustees, but said: "I refuse to discuss whether the report exonerates Miss Grace Merritt or calls for her resignation as a member of the church."

In the mean time the friends of Miss Merritt are gathering evidence in support of her contention that she did not write the letters. It has been found that a year ago and previous to the sending of the anonymous letters a mischief-maker scrawled scurrilous and defamatory legends on a long board fence in One Hundred and Fourth street, a block from the church.

Handwriting the Same.
The handwriting on the fence was the same as that on the subsequent letters. The names were mentioned in one instance the fence legend mentioned Miss Ray Smith and Mr. George McCann, the Sunday school superintendent. The young woman's father made an investigation and said to her he learned the identity of the writer in chalk.

Miss Charlotte Johnson, Miss Esther Smith, a sister of Miss Rutland, are the young women whose names were mentioned in the anonymous letters. Miss Johnson, Miss Smith, Miss Rutland and Mrs. Smith were also used in the anonymous letters.

ASSEMBLYMAN'S GRAVEL ACCUSED.

Charges Made Against Knipp and Archie Baxter in Answer to Suit for Services at Albany.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Aug. 16.—Through the suit filed by Assemblyman Charles H. Knipp to recover $1,175.91 of his share of a fee of $3,000 for his "efforts" to secure the charter for a true company, grave charges concerning the Assemblyman, Archie E. Baxter, Republican Clerk of the Assembly and the officers of the State Banking Department, have been made.

The suit is against Couch & Fisher. The answer is made by Mr. Fisher and says that he had been informed that to secure a certificate for the incorporation of a trust company he would have to secure the support of Assemblyman Knipp.

He informed the Assemblyman that he had written to Supt. Kilburn for a certificate and asked Mr. Knipp to call on the Superintendent and inform him of the character and financial worth of those interested.

Knipp promised to do so. Shortly thereafter, Mr. Fisher says Knipp called on him and told him he had seen Supt. Kilburn and had received a promise that the latter would not grant a certificate for the formation of any trust company in Elmira unless it was named by Knipp. The Assemblyman, the answer states, said he would influence Supt. Kilburn in favor of Mr. Fisher's company for the sum of $2,000.

The answer charges that Mr. Knipp stated that $2,000 was to go to Knipp and $1,000 to A. E. Baxter, clerk of the Assembly.

The defendant says that a short time thereafter Knipp again called and assured him he had secured the certificate and that it would be forwarded in a few days. At the same time Mr. Knipp asked and received $100 on account.

GRETNNA GREEN RACE TO BE HOLDING HAND CONTEST.

Unique Competition Is on To-Day at Southampton and All Society Is Interested.

SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., Aug. 16.—Many in the younger set of society spending the summer here regret that to-day has come. After to-day there will be no excuse for riding about the country roads and town streets, horse back and hand in hand. Since the conditions of the Gretnna Green race, the second on the card at the annual pony races to-day, were announced many of the younger couples said they would enter and at once commenced vigorous, even strenuous practice. The conditions of the race are that a lady and gentleman must ride hand in hand from the starting point to a given line. There they dismount and sign their names. They are then to ride to the finish hand in hand. If the name of the couple is illegible, or they let go of hands in rising from point to point, the couple will be disqualified. The ladies must ride side saddles. At the start the gentlemen are to assist their escorts to mount. Among the prominent entries as they are recorded and who will actually be in the race are August Belmont, Jr., and partner, Mrs. Harry W. McVicker, Stephen Peabody, Jr., H. C. Reddick, Miss A. De Goula, James G. Lawrence, Miss Caroline Putnam, Miss B. Norton, Ralph Brown, Mrs. H. A. Budd, H. A. Budd, Miss Gertrude Pell and M. J. Dodge.

The greatest amount of practicing has been done by those who are entered in the race. For weeks the young couples have been practicing the "holding hands" and "holding hands." And most of the time the animals were not making such good speed as to indicate that they were in a hurry. The oldest inhabitants say that it looks like a contest of "holding hands" but no one has objected. The young folks have enjoyed it apparently, and it is with regret, doubtless, that they see the day come after which they will have no excuse to doubtless.

POLITE BURGLARS ROB AN ACTRESS.

Janitress Said the Young Men Were So Nice that She Thought They Were Lillian Washburn's Friends.

While Mrs. Jesse Burns, of No. 274 West Fortieth street, an actress, known upon the stage as Lillian Washburn, was rehearsing her part in "Cordelia" Thursday afternoon, two well-dressed young men went to her flat and carried away the contents of two trunks, chiefly costumes and souvenir spoons.

The loss was discovered to-day when Mrs. Burns started to pack her trunks to move. The janitress, Mrs. Hunter, said that two very nice young men had carried the things out of the building about 3 o'clock in a trunk tray. They had been so polite that Mrs. Hunter says she thought they were friends of Mrs. Burns helping her move so didn't mention it before.

Mrs. Burns' sister-in-law also lost the contents of her trunk. The young men were at work for an hour and went about the daylight robbery in the most deliberate way, evidently knowing the habits of the actress and her sister.

SAY HE GOT $1,200 ON A $12 ACCOUNT.

Robert A. Willard, a bookkeeper with the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, No. 31 Willoughby street, Brooklyn, who lives at No. 208 West One Hundred and Fifty-first street, was arrested in Harlem Court to-day and held in $1,000 bonds until Monday accused of cashing $1,200 worth of checks apparently on a credit of $12 which he had April 13 with the Long Island Trust Company.

Nineteen saloon-keepers have been subpoenaed to testify, besides Simon Cahnmann, whose place is at No. 184 Amsterdam avenue, and who caused Willard's arrest of a $30 check marked "N. G."

About 5:30 the sixteenth went around the corner and saw Willard rush from his flat half clad to a saloon, where he was arrested while taking a drink. A check book showed that he had drawn $1,200 in checks since April 13.

Father Sailed Away on Long Cruise and Mother Was Sent to the Hospital Seriously Ill.

With their mother dying in a hospital and their father away on a long cruise, the four children of John Kelly, a sailor, were found starving at No. 611 White street, Brooklyn, to-day. The children range in age from three to ten years and when Roundman McLaughlin found them the youngest was too weak to stand. He took them to the Children's Society rooms, where physicians attended them.

The father went on a cruise two days ago, and on the same night his wife Nellie, with her two-month-old baby, was taken to the hospital. She has malaria and, the doctors say, will die. The children were left alone with no food in the house. After spending all of last night crying for food Joseph, the eldest, a boy of ten, went to a neighboring bakery and induced the proprietor to give him 10 cents worth of rolls, promising to pay him when his father returned.
